

INAUGURAL NYAWC NIGHT MARKET

BUY TICKETS

ABOUT THE EVENT

Our First Night Market

OUR STORY

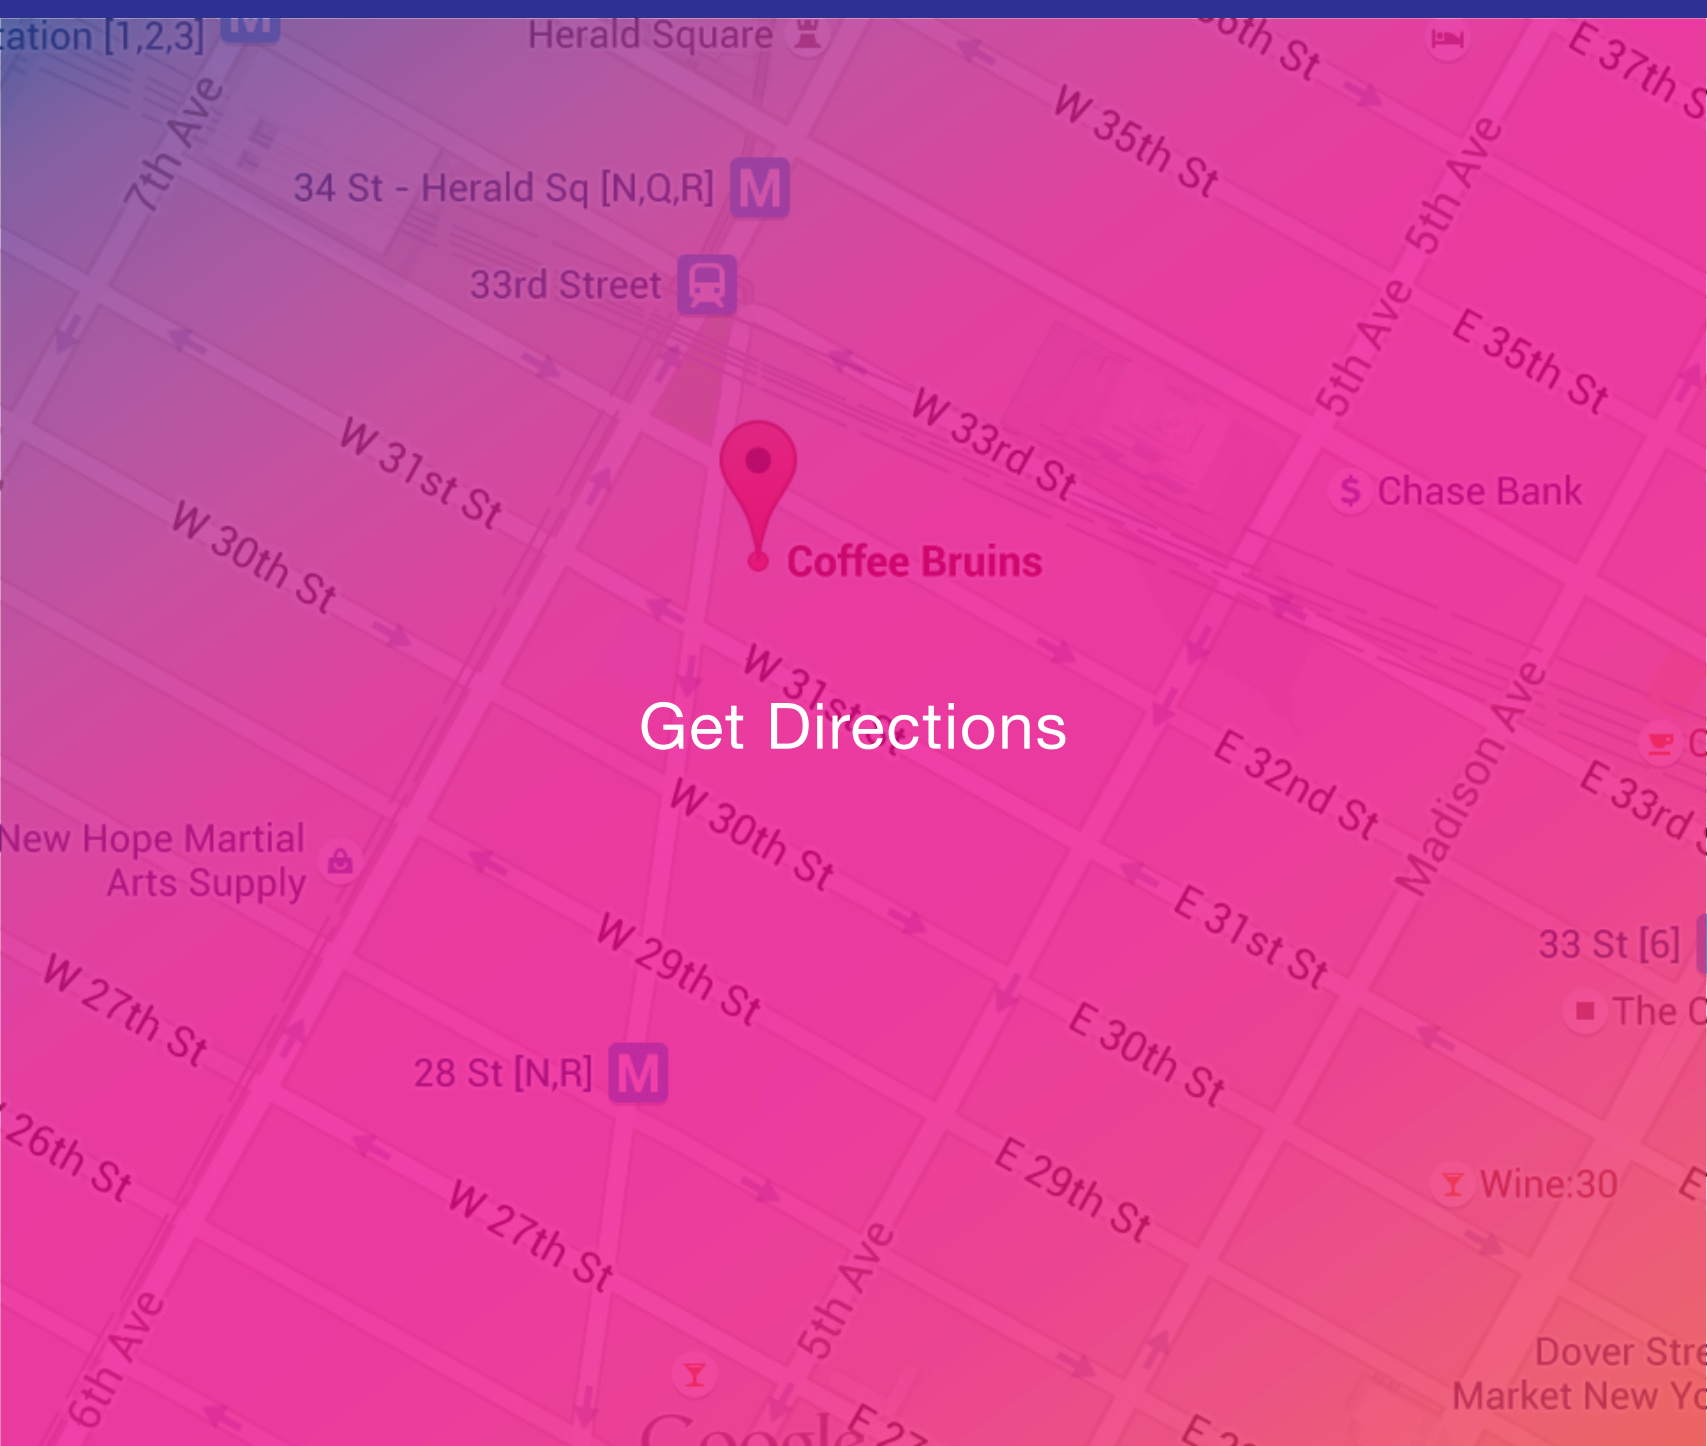

NYAWC's fabric is made of and created by the NYC pan Asian communities we serve. Food and drink are unifying forces of our cultures.

COLLECTIVE EFFORT

Gathering supporters, new and old, NYAWC will host its inaugural night market to celebrate our collective support of violence free lives, honor the journeys of our survivors, and uplift our community with a festive gathering around food.

EVENT FEATURES

Designed as a two part event--a special chef tasting hour, followed by an indoor night market after party, we will engage the talents of a pan Asian grouping of NYC based chefs and restaurants.

ANITA LO

Anita Lo is the chef and owner of the successful New York restaurant Annisa and serves as consulting chef for Rickshaw Dumpling Bar. Lo comes from a second generation Chinese-American family that fostered her passion for eating and cooking. Lo worked her way through all the stations at David Waltuck's Chanterelle and became known as a contemporary American chef during her time at Mirezi in New York, where she won rave reviews including a glowing 2-star write up from The New York Times.

QUESTIONS

About NYAWC and Opportunities to Help

WHAT WE DO

The New York Asian Women's Center helps women and their children overcome domestic violence and other forms of abuse by empowering them to govern their own lives. The Center provides a safe haven through multi-lingual support programs and shelter services. In addition, the Center works to raise public awareness about violence against women, advocates for the rights of survivors, and acts as an agent of social change.

WHO WE HELP

Domestic violence is a tragedy that affects all segments of the U.S. population, but immigrant women face unique challenges. Language, cultural, legal and economic barriers leave Asian immigrant women especially vulnerable to abuse. NYAWC services empower women to overcome these barriers.
